The diagram illustrates the transition between two steps of the Google Account creation process. On the left, the 'Create your Google Account' screen shows fields for 'First name', 'Last name', 'Username', and 'Password'. A red circle highlights the link 'Use my current email address instead'. A large red arrow points to the right, where the same screen is shown but with the 'Your email address' field highlighted by a red circle. Below this field is the text 'You'll need to confirm that this email belongs to you.' and a link 'Create a new Gmail address instead'.

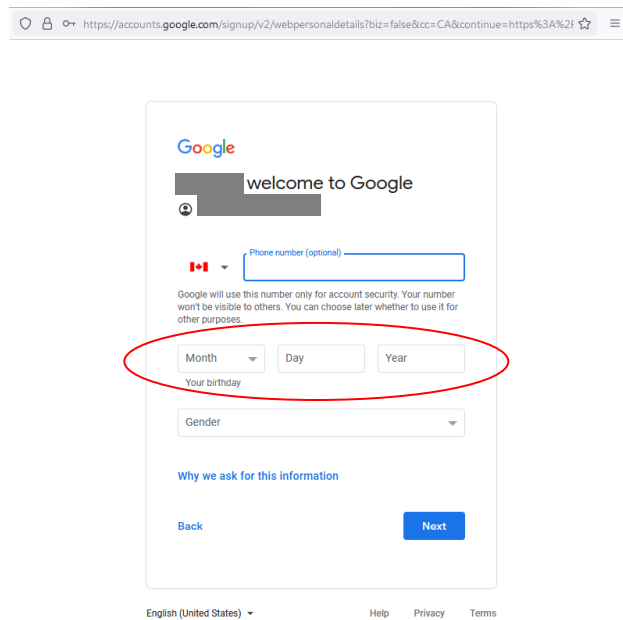

5. You may be asked to verify your email address. Check your email box, come back to this screen to enter the code and then click “Next”.

The screenshot shows the 'Verify your email address' screen. It features the Google logo, the title 'Verify your email address', and a message: 'Enter the verification code we sent to [redacted]@outlook.com. If you don't see it, check your spam folder.' Below this is a text input field labeled 'Enter code'. At the bottom, there are 'Back' and 'Next' buttons.

- The only required info is your birthday. You may skip other parts and then click “Next”.
